Letter to Our Members

Welcome to our 2014 Annual Report! We've tried to pack it full of the history of our association as well as the past year's activities and finances. 2014 was a slow year for Friends of Jordan as there was a gap in volunteers arriving in country. With your continued support and participation in events such as our third annual "Ramadan Iftar Potluck" we raised more money to fund future projects! We continued to improve our social media presence, and look forward to further expanding of online presence. There were also many additional activities which we describe in more detail in the report.

We are proud of what Friends of Jordan accomplished this past year and know that 2015 will be a great one! It has been our honor to serve you and Friends of Jordan as the Present and Vice President, and we look forward to look on as the new board continues to work towards and expand these common goals.

Sincerely,

Erin Parr
President,
Friends of Jordan Association

Meghan Worthington
Vice President,
Friends of Jordan Association

Association Background

History

The Friends of Jordan Association was founded in 2004 with a group of Returned Peace Corps Volunteers (RPCVs) from Jordan along with former in-country staff. This group of RPCVs and former staff adopted the concept for Friends of Jordan from existing Peace Corps country “Friends of” groups. Peace Corps Jordan began in 1997, and six groups of returned volunteers existed by 2004. These returned volunteers were interested in having an organization that would bring them all together, help them stay connected to Jordan, connect them to others outside of the Peace Corps with an interest in Jordan, and provide a base for Jordan-oriented educational and charitable activities.

Friends of Jordan became incorporated as a state non-profit in Maryland in October 2004. In late 2004, the Friends of Jordan Association formed an affiliation with the National Peace Corps Association (NPCA), a non-profit organization that serves as an umbrella organization for all of the RPCV groups.

In February of 2005, Friends of Jordan held its first election and welcomed its first group of officers. The Officers discussed and finalized the draft bylaws by vote in September 2005 and an application to gain federal 501(c)3 non-profit status was in process at the end of 2005. After its first full year Friends of Jordan became a functioning non-profit with 39 members. Members now include not only Returned Peace Corps Volunteers and staff but also Jordanians and others interested in Jordan and the goals of the association.

2007 saw the creation of two more officer positions, acceptance as a 501(c)3 organization by the IRS and the success of numerous objectives and activities, which are outlined in the sections of this report that follow.

Mission & Goals

Mission Statement:

To facilitate networking and knowledge exchange among persons with a common interest in the country of Jordan, promote a better understanding of Jordanian people and culture, and support projects and activities of the U.S. Peace Corps and charitable private organizations in Jordan.

Our Association's Main Goals:

- Encourage charitable and educational activities relating to the third goal of Peace Corps – to promote a better understanding of Jordanians on the part of Americans;
- Provide a forum within the U.S. and abroad for charitable activities, professional development, networking, and exchange of knowledge among persons and organizations with a common interest in Jordan;
- Support projects of the U.S. Peace Corps and charitable private organizations in Jordan;
- Assist Peace Corps volunteers returning from Jordan to re-connect with their

- communities and cultures in the U.S.; and
- Help Peace Corps volunteers returned from Jordan to continue with public service and related activities similar to those they performed during their Peace Corps service.

Small Grant Funding Profile

Sarah Barnhart

Grant to facilitate various camps from August – October 2014

Condensed Brain Camp: August 23 – 26 Co-Facilitators: Entesar Bdour Participants: 12 students from 8th and 9th grade.

Over four days, twelve students attended a condensed version of the regular Brain Camp. They learned about mindset and the eight skills that make up critical thinking. The success of this portion of the project can be measured not only by the regular attendance, but also by the quality of the conversations that occurred. The students would speak up throughout the presentations, offering great examples and insights. Additionally, organizing another Brain Camp was my counterpart's idea, which speaks volumes to her motivation and dedication to her students.

Thinker Club: September 6 – 25 Co-Facilitators: N/A Participants: 4 students from 9th grade. Following the condensed Brain Camp, students were expected to use their new critical thinking skills to consider issues within their own communities. The club met four times and completed the "Be the Change" Manual, a step-by-step guide to developing a community service project. Four students participated in the club and collectively decided to focus upon the environment, specifically a clean-up initiative. The students created and presented a PowerPoint about recycling and rubbish for the younger students at the school. Following this event, the club was disbanded due to a lack of interest and participation.

Science is Fun Co-Facilitators: N/A Participants: 18 students 4th grade.

Over the course of six weeks, eighteen students got to perform hands-on experiments in the laboratory. These basic science experiments were independent of the Ministry Science curriculum; they learned about primary/secondary colors, water tension, yeast, Newtonian liquids and many other fun facts about the world around them. This project did not improve their test scores on their exams, but instead taught them some of the basics of setting up an experiment. In theory, this was a great activity; however, unfortunately the Science is Fun" portion was mostly a failure – the students never properly experimented and only seemed to absorb the most basic information presented during the period. I didn't have a counterpart for this activity, which proved to be a fatal mistake. I had to focus almost all my energy on managing the class rather than teaching them (which is also why I lack more photographic evidence of this project). If a volunteer ever applies to do a science activity with their students, make sure that a counterpart is identified in the grant application.

Color Wheel – filled in color wheels and learned about how soap attacks fat, which caused dye on full fat milk to disperse when a drop of soap was added. Floating Paperclips – learned about the properties of water and attempted to make paperclips float by adding various types of medium (wax, baby powder and fine) to strengthen the water tension. Acids and Browning – discussed the reactions that occur when fruits and vegetables turn brown after exposure to oxygen and experimented on what substances prevent this browning – they quickly discovered that acids prevent this reaction. Magic Balloons – presented information about yeast and gave each group a bottle of sugar, water and yeast, which was capped by a balloon The Dynamic Brain – presented fun and interesting facts about their brain. Making Slime – learned about Newtonian liquids and made their own slime!

Planet Earth/Cosmos Screenings: Co-Facilitators: N/A Participants: 12 students from 7th and 8th grade.

Ten students attended the screening of the first Cosmos episode; however, I never got to screen the Planet Earth series due to the fact that my disc drive broke and the discs wouldn't play on the school computers. The students really enjoyed the Cosmos and learned a lot about the universe, although I was careful not to question any religious beliefs.

Membership Information

Friends of Jordan had 55 total members at the end of December, 2014. There were 9 new or renewed memberships in 2014. Members have joined by downloading membership forms and reaching out directly to the Membership Coordinator. We also spent significant time networking with Peace Corps-Jordan to reach volunteers that are completing their service.

FOJ continues to have diverse representation with members living in multiple countries, states, and the District of Columbia. Our members also include current and former Peace Corps staff members, family members of currently serving volunteers, spouses of RPCVs, and others with an interest in Jordan and the goals of Friends of Jordan.

2014 Financial Information

Financial Overview

This report covers the period from January 2014 through December 2014.

Friends of Jordan continues to be financially stable with extremely low expenses for a non-profit organization. 2014 revenues (including donations) totaled $994.64, while we had expenses (excluding grants awarded) of $331.56. (Table 1). Revenue includes membership dollars collected and given to the National Peace Corps Association (NPCA). Below is further explanation of the association's finances from January through December 2014 which are also detailed on the balance sheet at the end of the section.

- a. Expenses included banking fees, PayPal, postage, web fees, and $55 to re-affiliate with NPCA and totaled $331.56.
- b. Additional costs for office supplies, postage, and phone calls made by board members to participate in the monthly meetings are not included in the expense total. We appreciate donations in materials and time made by board and other members.
- c. We raised $814.64 in donations in 2014.

- d. We gave a plaque and spa gift card to Jordan PCMO Laurene Abu Anza as a retirement gift to thank her for her years of service. These gifts, including shipping totaled $173.58, and is listed in our second quarter non-grant expenses.
- e. In 2014, we gave 2 grants, totaling approximately (because of the exchange rate) $158.04, to a wide variety of projects sponsored by Peace Corps Volunteers in Jordan. All grants were dispersed in Jordanian dinars.

We are entering 2015 financially stable with growing assets. Assets in FOJ’s bank accounts increased from approximately $6,237.18 on January 1, 2014 to $6,760.97 on December 31, 2014.

Budget Projection for 2015

In 2015, the Association will need income to cover expenditures for the website and other operating costs, Small Grant Funding, start-up costs for new programs, and donations to causes which further our mission. Below outlines our projected costs which will be funded from membership dues, donations, and fundraising.

Summary of 2015 Fundraising Goal
Item	Amount
Small grant funding	$500
Operating costs	$600
Donations to causes furthering our mission	$500
Total	$1,600

We anticipate $200 from membership dues this year, including renewals and new memberships.

The officers project a need of $1,600 for expenses. The projected expenses include 5 small grants totaling $500 towards Third Goal projects, and $600 for operating costs. We have also included a goal to donate $500 to one or more causes furthering the mission of Friends of Jordan.

Objectives and Work Plan for 2015

FOJ goals for 2015 are specifically to:

- Encourage charitable and educational activities relating to the Third Goal of Peace Corps—to promote a better understanding of Jordanians on the part of Americans;
- Provide a forum within the US and abroad for charitable activities, professional development, networking, and exchange of knowledge among persons and organizations with a common interest in Jordan;
- Support projects of the Peace Corps and charitable private organizations in Jordan;
- Assist Peace Corps Volunteers returning from Jordan to reconnect with their communities and cultures in the US; and

Founded: Friends of Jordan Association (FOJ) is a non-profit organization founded in 2004 by Returned Peace Corps Volunteers and staff who felt that a group to promote Jordanian culture, heritage, and awareness was of great importance.

Members: Friends of Jordan currently has 63 members, and we are continually growing. Our members include Returned Peace Corps-Jordan Volunteers who are now working and/or studying around the globe, current and former Peace Corps-Jordan staff, and others associated with or interested in Jordan.

Activities: Friends of Jordan’s first charitable activity, the Small Grants Program was launched in 2005 and offers up to $150 for secondary projects to Jordanians working with a Peace Corps Volunteer currently serving in Jordan. The program supports 10-15 projects a year including sports camps, art projects, language workshops, educational field trips, and more.

We publish our quarterly newsletter Marhabtain and have pictures, and resources on our interactive website.

Project Funding: Friends of Jordan has received donations totaling over $2,600 in 2013 for our programs. Donations fund secondary projects proposed by Jordanians working with Peace Corps volunteers through the Small Grants Program. Donations also support other worthwhile projects in the U.S. or Jordan that promote American-Arab cultural exchange or grassroots community development.

How to Join: Membership is open to all persons with an interest in Jordan. To join, please visit <http://friendsofjordan.org/membership/> or email membership@friendsofjordan.org. FOJ offers a complimentary, one-year membership to Jordan-PCVs who have recently returned from Jordan. Otherwise, membership is $20/year.
